

Angel Ayala-Rangel

October 1, 1928 - January 17, 2021

It's time to ride your bike thru the pearly gates into the arms of our Lord father where your Mother Maria, sisters Carmen, Tita, Aunts, Uncles, and many nieces, cousins await you with open arms. We will miss hearing your singing voice, stories, jokes and seeing you ride your bike thru town. You are in a better place and until we see you again. RIP. We ask that in memory of Angelo be nice to bicyclist, give them the right of way.

“ To the family and friends of Angel Ayala- Rangel: I have some fond memories of your loved one: Angel often rode a bicycle to and from our pharmacy. He would park it just outside the door, let down the stand prop, and enter the store. Angel often gave the front counter person a hesitant smile, make his way back to the pharmacy, and engage in a lengthy conversation with one of our pharmacy techs. He often had a lot of news that needed to be imparted... :) Later, he would conclude his business and come back along the front counter....smile....go through the door, put his package inside the basket 🛒 located in front of his bicycle, lift up the propping stand, and ride toward his next destination. Riding a bicycle when you are in your late eighties or early nineties.... pretty amazing!!!! I must confess that I missed this scene when Angel could no longer come to the pharmacy. Prayers and blessings, Karen Lommers
