“ Let me start by offering my condolences to Elizabeth kids. I met Elizabeth at business college in the 90s. We shared many great visits when our kids were little . Life took us in different directions however I never forgot Elizabeth and the gift of a Indian blanket she gave ME when her father passed. When I was pregnant she taught me some tradition and cultural beliefs. I always missed her in my life and wished so much I could have seen her again. She was loved. She was missed. She was always my friend. RIP.
