“ The day i had to let you go was the the worst thing that a mother could go through. I waited each and every single day by your side in the hospital hoping that you would wake up. I was told there was nothing that could be done with the loss of words my body seemed to freeze my mind went blank, i went back to the hospital room and wanted to wake you up to prove to the doctors that what they say cannot be true. as days went by reality set in and it became time for you my son to go and be with dad in heaven. It has been a year and nine months without you and the pain is still there and we still often cry we are learning new ways to cope with losing you. The love and memories we have for you will never go away. we love you and miss you so so much. love you my baby boy from mom.##imported-begin##Angelina Vela (mom)##imported-end##

“ Words can't express how much we all miss you. We think about you often and hope we see in our dreams when we sleep. Not a day goes by that your not talked about. You left us to soon but I guess god needed you more than we did. I miss and love you. We will meet again.##imported-begin##cassandra albarran##imported-end##
