“ 50+ years ago, she became my sister and welcomed me into the family when I was with her brother, John. We danced together at White Swan powwows. She was Miss Yakima Nation. She was such a fine dancer, I watched in awe as she was called on to dance by herself at Treaty Days where she literally floated around the arena, her feet barely touching the ground. We got to laugh as sisters on many occasions. She always had a funny, wry observation to share. We slaved together at the Tiinowit hamburger stand, giggling as we slung together burger after burger getting the stacking mixed up rushing to serve them.

She was a bright light and rock solid at heart. She went through a lot of hardship, yet always regained her balance, going forward as one must. Her family was everything to her. She'll be tremendously missed, with much love, by many, including me. Rest well, my dear sister. Condolences to all in her family 🙏🏻👉🏻❤️

“ Prayers for the family and friends, Louiza always talked about the good times when she would powwow with her grandchildren, whom she helped take care of. Her love for the children and her family showed through her work. I'm going to miss her very much and all the conversations and coffee morning laughs while we stood there seeing who was going to fill up the water to the kerrig.
