“ Del, Sherry & family. Truly, an example of a loving caring independent woman of uniqueness. She held down the homestead far beyond what many would consider. It seems so just for such a supportive and comforting woman to transition during the comfort of sleep. Each visit to your home, Del, was greeted with her smiling and , often, the enticing smells of canning or baking. My positive thoughts sent to each of you. She will remain a smiling memory of my school days and the years I remain. Comfort to her soul and peace to your spirits

“ Pearl was a kind, loving lady. She was very humble and honorable... always concerned about paying bills on time and doing what was right.

Pearl loved to collect salt and pepper shakers. Her hobby was immense.

Many of these trinkets could be seen displayed in her home. Some of them were so “special “ to her.

Pearl enjoyed looking at new salt and pepper shakers in the local pharmacy. She had fun selecting a few and taking them home. Her friend and neighbor, Elizabeth, too, purchased these trinkets and gifted them.

Pearl loved gadding with Liz. They often ate out and enjoyed their time together. It was fun for me to visit with the duo whenever they stopped in the pharmacy.

Bless you, dear Elizabeth, for taking such loving care of Pearl. The both of you are such “awesome” ladies!!!!!!

I am truly blessed to have known you.

♥ Karen
