“ Although we were not close. We had many moments to speak and know of each other through friends and family. I have a son in Heaven; the loss is by far the most painful. I am truly sorry. However, we are all here for a purpose whether it is to make us laugh or cry...it is the impact that matters.

You will be in the same place my son is in heaven and where your body will rest in Zillah. You can meet him now. :)..

You are one beautiful girl in and out Yanira. I know you are smiling down at your loved ones and most of all to Juanito. As I told you before...He is one gorgeous little man.

I will always remember you, your sister and my sister all dressed up and beautiful. I thought you three looked like triplets :-)

I pray your family heals and finds their strength as soon as possible.

May you rest in peace mija.##imported-begin##Adriana Cisneros (Luna)##imported-end##

“ To know the value of a mother,father, brother,daughter, son or sister ask someone who has lost one. For those who don't value their family don't wait until there gone. Life is to short to be waisted with silly arguments. Love is the greatest gift you can offer to someone. I know that you were greatly valued Yanira and loved by all. As a long time neighbor and friend I remember the silly home videos we would do when our parents were off to work in the Delmonte. The times my sisters and yours would get into dumb aruments and then quickly become good neighbors/friends again. The times your sisters would come over and get advice from my mother and the times you or florinda always came looking for nancy at our house. Endless memories to recall, but nonetheless the ones that forever will be held on to. Dear Eloy, Amelia, Esmeralda, Florinda, Nancy and Juanito we Love You, my prayer for you as a family is that God may comfort you in this time of need. Though we may never know the answers to everything that happens in life, I know that one thing is always true, God will never leave you. “ I will never forget your smile, because that was a so natural part of you. I will always remember our adventures at school and I can hear your laugh as if you were standing right by me.
